SOME CROWING AT POULTRY SHOW

Blue Ribbons Were Tacked Up On Prize Winning Coops This Morning.

SOME WHO SECURED SPECIALS.

List of Chicken Fanciers Who Have Peen Recognized by the Judge To Date.

The crowing match at the poultry show continues apace. This morning quite a number of the roosters had something to crow about, for a young man came around armed with a mouthful of tacks, a hammer and a handful of blue ribbons. These last named were the special prize tokens and each ribbon bord the legend, best colored or shaped male or female, as the case might be. Some coops were honored to the extent of as many as four ribbons being tacked up, and when there were only two birds inside the gentleman surely had license to crow! Even the almable duck who runs to avoirdupois so aggressively weke up and outquacked the quack who rooms upstairs. When the lad with the blue ribbons passed, like the Pharisee of ancient fore, on the other side, one apparently disgusted Plymouth Rock turned hisback on the boy with the tack hammer and gracefully filled the youth's eyes full of sawdust and chaff which he scratched from the bottom of his coop with a pair of vicious swings of his claws, "And yet they say that fowls are devoid of intelligence," murmured Emma J. Mellette, editor of the Western Poultry World, as she tackled a poor defenseless man, drove him into a poor defenseless man, drove him into a corner and wrote him up for an annual subscription before he could es-

The prizes are nearly all awarded and tomorrow will see the Poultry Show close in a blaze of glory, much to the relief of the roomers upstairs and the added peace and dignity of State street. Among those who secured the much coveted blue ribbon this morning, which means they are entitled to special prizes, are the following:

HAY FOR HOBOES.

Saloonkeeper Cuts Out the Free Lunch At His Bar.

A west First South street saloonkeep. er who has been giving rather extensive free lunches of late, found that the patronage of the lunch table was considerably exceeding that of the drink counter. Men were flocking in at noon to the generous feed, but seemed to forget all about any obligation to patronize the bar. They were men out of employment, and had no money. The saloon man had no objection to helping the worthy indigent, but the brevity of his purse did not admit of feeding the town. So yesterday he set the table as forks and spoens; but instead of the regular edibles, he placed on the table a bale of lucern hay on which appeared the legend, "Free lunch-arise and eat. Don't be bashful-help yourself." The varied expressions appearing on the countenances of the lunch fiends as they shambled in for the regular noonide feed, and saw that hay and tire initation, were studies for a painter.

CANNON HOUSE FIRE.

Handsome Residence Near the Jordan River Being Destroyed.

At the hour of going to press the residence of Sarah A. J. Cannon, widow of Abraham H. Cannon, is reported to be in flames and in course of complete destruction. It is located on Eighth West and Tenth South, near the banks of the Jordan river. The house is a large and handsome one. The alarm came in by telephone and department No. 2 responded, while the steamer from No. 1 also started for the scene of the | clerk's office today.

BARGAIN SALES.

The rage for marking down goods and running bargain sales has spread beyond the drygoods and shoe trades, and caught on among the marketmen. One butcher has started out with "marked down goods," and is doing also a rushing bargain counter business. Store worn eggs, slightly soiled cabbages, odds and ends of other vegetables, mismated groceries, and broken lots of overmature fruits and shelfstained canned goods, are going at bargain and knock down prices. The un-dertakers are thinking of likewise go-ing into this line of commercial endeavor, and doing a big business in bargain counter sales of mortuary haberda hery and post mortem gear generally.

IN LIBERIA.

Arthur Barelay Inaugurated as President.

London, Jan. 29 .- Advices received from Liberia say that the new president, Arthur Barclay, was successfully inaugurated at Monrovia, the capital, Jan. 4. The keynotes of his address to few weeks ago, in Salt Lake City withthe people were commercial freedom and the conciliation of the aboriginal population of Liberia, to which little attention has been paid for many years. The president dwelt on the advantages the Liberians derive from Europeans and white Americans. He urgently advocated closer commercial alliances and recommended granting greater facilities to all foreigners for trading and

ANOTHER GAS STRIKE.

Drillers at Guffey-Galey Well Have Another Thrilling Experience.

Word was received in the city today that another gas reservoir was struck at the Guffey-Galey well near Farming ton yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and that the drillers were treated to another display of mud spouting.

The gas came to the surface with greater force than it did on Tuesday when the first big gas strike was made. Mud and water was thrown to the top of the derrick and it was with considerable difficulty that Supt. Rumbaugh and associates were able to control the situation.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

All Members Wore a Carnation in Remembrance of Mckinley.

Washington, Jan. 23.—A carnation adorned the coat of nearly every member of the house today in commemoration of the late President McKinley. The chaplain referred feelingly to the late president.

The house went into committee of the whole for the consideration of the urgent deficiency bill. The rending of the bill under the five minute rule was be-gun when Mr. Hill (Con.,) made a point of order against the paragraph appro priating $100,000 for the expenses of the ommission on international exchange appropriated to bring about a relationship between gold standard and silver using countries. He contended that it was new legislation and that item put in the bill last session for the commis-sion was placed there by the senate contrary to the rules of the senate and

Mr. Lind (Minn.,) asked if the paragraph committed the government to in-ternational bimetallism.

'Not at all," replied Mr. Hemenway. Mr. Hill remarked that would be the effect of it. The point of order was sustained and the item was stricken out. Mr. Hay (Va.,) raised the point of order against the appropriation to enable the secretary of state to mark the Alas. kan boundary in conformity with the award of the boundary tribunal, on the ground that it was new legislation. The point was overruled. The appropriation for the United States consul at Antung. Manchuria, was on motion of Mr. Hitt (Ills.), chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, made on the basis of $3,500 a year, instead of $4,000.

When the paragraph providing the destitute Indians of Alaska was reached Mr. Cowherd (Mo.) called attention to the deplorable condition of the natives of Alaska which he declared to exist. He said the people of this country have zone in there in search of gold, and have changed conditions surrounding the natives. Game laws have been passed, he said, even to protect the bear, while the native is left to die of starvation. The Alaskan Indian, he said, is the only Indian that has never raised a hand against the white man. Legislation should be enacted to pre-serve the Indian, instead of the game.

Portland Schoolhouse Burned.

Portland, Or., Jan. 29 .- The theory that the destruction of the Park street public school at midnight last night was the act of an incendiary, is given great credence by the police and fire departments today. A trustworthy citizen has come forward with a statement to the effect that shortly before the flames broke out ne saw a tall wo-man attired in black, descending the steps of the schoolhouse to the street, The woman appeared rather nervous and she turned several times while walking away from the building, as if looking for something. Her strange actions attracted the attention of the citizen, and he watched her for some The flames did not burst forth for several minutes after the woman
